BENNETT AT HOME IN NASHVILLE

scene had "pretty much dried up for the kind of work that I could do."

Los Angeles session-work had once been Bennett's vocation. Upon graduating from high school in Phoenix in 1968, he quickly found regular work in the L.A. studios via a connection with session guitarist Al Casey, who, like Bennett, was a student of guitar teacher Forrest Skaggs. "Things happened pretty quickly once I got to Los Angeles, and within a year or so I was playing three or four sessions a day," he recalls.

Between 1968 and 1974—when

Bennett removed himself from the studio scene for a sabbatical "to find out who I really was as a player"—he estimates that he played several thousand sessions, for such artists as Peggy Lee, Jim Stafford (on "Spiders And Snakes"), Glen Campbell, the Ventures, Barbra Streisand, the Partridge Family, Sammy Davis Jr., Ray Price, Helen Reddy (on "Delta Dawn"), Gene Vincent, Tennessee Ernie Ford, David Cassidy, and the Bellamy Brothers.

A big break came for Bennett in 1971, when the studio combo he had been playing with—which included bassist Emory Gordy and soul legend Spooner Oldham on keyboards—became Neil Diamond's touring band. Bennett's affiliation with Diamond continued until 1987.

"Unfortunately, my production work in Nashville began conflicting with Neil's tours, and the guy who filled for me ended up becoming the regular guitarist," says Bennett, who calls Diamond a "first-class person."

Live performing is the aspect of his work that Bennett has missed most the past few years. "I've gone through major tour withdrawal and really miss that live-show buzz," he says, noting that he does play the occasional date, including Becky Hobbs' most recent Grand Ole Opry show.

Bennett is unsure how he would characterize his place in Nashville's recording scene. "I don't know how I fit in, or even if I fit at all," he says. "I try to keep the number of production projects under control and, even if I'm not hitting the top 20 consistently, I feel very good about what I've done, and it's been praised from the critical and creative ends.

"What I can say for sure," says Bennett, "is that the music industry people have been very good to me here."

Fan Fun Promised On New 900 Line

TNN, Billboard Team On Phone Info Service

NASHVILLE—The Nashville Network and Billboard have established an interactive phone service for country music fans called 1-900-FUN-ON-TNN.

For 95 cents a minute, callers can access by touch-tone phone these features: a TNN weekly programming update that contains audio clips from selected shows; a country music trivia game; a sampling of Billboard's weekly "power picks" from its country singles chart and news about the acts whose records are being spotlighted; and a country music tour update that allows callers to input their area code to get information about upcoming concerts in their region.

The trivia quiz feature is changed daily, and callers can play the game up to five times a day to accumulate points toward a daily, a weekly, and a grand prize.

TNN advertisers can buy sponsorship of entire programs or of segments of programs.

The service is being promoted through spots on TNN, The Nashville Network Radio, and Country America, a fan magazine published by TNN, Group W Satellite Communications (which distributes and markets TNN), and Meredith Corp.

Morning Meeting. The WGAR Cleveland morning team of Dave Perkins & Lucy Grant welcomes RCA artist Don Williams to town for a concert at the Front Row.

STATIONS RETHINK PLAYLISTS, SOME ADD MORE CURRENTS TO MIX

varying "according to the material out there," says Daniels. "We've increased our rotation just slightly."

Daniels sympathizes with the record companies, but feels "most radio stations have zeroed in on what they feel is the proper amount of currents. It does cause a problem with record companies because there are many new artists out and so much product that's really good, and it's very difficult for us to play the number of songs we'd like to play." Daniels also cautions that the more different songs a station plays results in each song getting less prominence in the rotation.

"We've been playing more currents for about 18 months," reports Don Cristi, PD, at KRST/KRZY. Currents are 43% of the music mix at the No. 1 rated Albuquerque station. Cristi's playlist "floats," he says, and has, in the past year, ranged from a low of 33 currents to a high of 39. It's 37 this week. "A lot depends on the product coming out of Nashville."

Allen Butler, national director of promotion for Arista Records/-

Nashville, believes the playlist situation is approaching the crisis stage. "Those people [in radio] start feeling this crunch of product out there, and they're crying. We're crying because great records are not getting any airplay and the radio stations are crying because they don't have any room to get them on."

Butler says a few playlists have gotten longer "in the last couple of weeks, but it's very scattered and pretty much stabilized at this point. They don't seem to be getting shorter, but there's not a big wave of people trying to add." His statistics show KPLX up to 40 songs from 35-37, KMML up to 47 from 40, and KNCQ up to 55 from 50.

"We don't have a set playlist," advises KNCQ PD/MD Gary Popejoy, "because there's no guarantee that you're going to be ready to drop off so many records, and no guarantee that you're going to get ample enough new product to warrant putting it in." The latest playlists run in the 51-55 range for the station that leads the market in the 12-plus numbers in the most recent book.

"Even with an extensive playlist," advises Popejoy, "we sometimes hear from people that they hear the same songs too much over and over 12 times a day. With our programming, that's impossible. It appears to get overplayed if they hear the same song twice in a 12-hour period."

KHEY averages 30 to 34 records, according to Gary Perkins, MD, who notes, "On the weekends we hot up the rotation of new ones, and it probably sounds like we're our best pitch. They don't have anyone like Clint, and I know that Joe Galante is just incredible at working product." Perna had met Galante when the RCA chief took a music publishing course from him. Answers Ham: "That's a good idea." Perna hangs up and immediately dials Galante. "Joe, this is Richard Perna, and I think we have a really strong country artist I'd like you to see." Galante says, "Why don't you bring him over right now?" Remembers Perna, "I was blown away with that response." Enroute to RCA, Perna tries to ease Black's disappointment at the previous turndowns. 4:50 p.m.: Black and Perna sit down with Galante and play the four-song tape. Galante listens, nods his head to the music, and lifts his head every few seconds to glance at Black. "Are you playing guitar on that? Are you doing all the vocals? Did you write all these songs?" Finally, according to Perna, after the fourth song ends, Galante looks at Black and says, "Clint, if you don't fart on stage, you've got a deal." RCA had a good act, Black had a good label, and everyone had a good laugh. Galante recalls saying, "I like it—let me live with it for a day or two and I'll call you back." Galante calls in two days, reaffirming he wants to make a deal, though before signing he'd like to bring some RCA staffers to a Houston showcase for Black.

Dec. 8, 1987: The RCA contingent attends the showcase at the Backstage Bar. They are duly impressed. Later they go to dinner with Ham, Perna, and John Williams of Lone Wolf. Contract negotiations begin—along with the game plan for getting Black in the studio and on record. The next week: RCA mails the contracts to Houston for signatures. March 1988: Work starts on the album at Digital Services studio in Houston. Tracks are cut in Houston, and then, says Stroud, "we brought Clint to Nashville and sang him up here." Just as the album project is ending, Black and Nicholas write "Killin' Time." It is added as the final song.

August 1988: The album is played at RCA's national meeting in Rye, N.Y.

September 1988: The first of a series of RCA promotional bus tours with Galante and troops. Galante later notes, "We covered about three-quarters of what was the

NASHVILLE SONGWRITERS ASSN.

Songwriter Achievement Awards ceremony and dinner will be held Saturday night. Awards will be presented to successful Nashville-based songwriters or to writers whose works are associated with Nashville in the categories of song of the year, songwriter of the year, and top country achievement honors. New awards categories will cover pop/rock, gospel, AC, and R&B. Winners are chosen by a vote of the NSAI membership.

Participants may register for the entire symposium or individual events. The full symposium package is $140 for members, $180 for nonmembers. Friday's panel and showcase is $25 for members, $40 for nonmembers. Friday's showcase is $10 for advance purchase and $12 at the door. Tickets for Saturday's co-writer session are $50 for members, $80 for nonmembers. Awards-ceremony-only tickets are $60 for everyone. Additional information is available at 615-321-5004.

Nashville Music Community Takes Cautious Stance Against Stickers

BY EDWARD MORRIS

NASHVILLE—Although the music industry here has mounted some coordinated opposition to the proposed state record-labeling law, resistance has so far been restrained and cautious. For the most part, the major labels are letting the Recording Industry Assn. of America carry their battle against mandatory sticker.

Some of the measure's opponents say they do not oppose sticker ing in principle—but only in the form being considered now by the General Assembly subcommittees.

In addition to sending a representative to Tennessee to coordinate activities initially, the RIAA has hired lobbyist Betty Anderson to work for the defeat of House Bill 2482 and Senate Bill 2535, both of which prescribe a wide range of lyric subjects that must be cited on album covers and the precise manner of sticker.

Prior to a scheduled hearing on the house bill March 7, a delegation of music business officials met with the subcommittee chairman to explain its concerns. It included Anne Neal, RIAA's senior VP of corporate legal affairs; Jo Walker-Meador, executive director of the Country Music Assn.; ASCAP's Merlin Littlefield, who is also the CMA's legislative committee chairman; Mike Martinovich, VP of marketing for CBS Records; and CBS artists Rodney Crowell, Rosanne Cash, and Ricky Skaggs.

The hearing was postponed to March 21.

CMA associate executive director Ed Benson says, "We feel it's important to deal with these bills in all the states—wherever they come up." He characterizes the current bills as "impracticable."

"The CMA is certainly not opposed to the idea that something ought to be done," Benson continues, "but what we're trying to advocate and talk to the various states about is that the industry itself is going to get much more aggressive in labeling and policing what it's doing. We're not opposed to the concept of some labeling for some types of product."

Says Tim DuBois, Arista Records/Nashville VP and GM: "We feel it is first and foremost a censorship issue. Secondly, the way they're approaching the thing makes it almost an unworkable situation for the record labels, because it's putting the burden on erally two to three weeks." Sometimes, says Heather Hawthorne, an assistant at Studio Productions, a label may allot only one week.

As more videos are ordered, Gardner notes, labels are looking for ways to save money. She says she has convinced some of her clients to shoot two videos by two different acts once she has a crew assembled.

George Flanigen, co-owner of Deaton Flanigen with Robert Deaton, says "the quality level [of country videos] has gone up immensely" now that labels are "friendly" to the medium. Since his company opened five years ago, music videos have risen to account for 60% of its income.

Representatives of both Scene Three and Studio Productions point to video's growing importance in breaking new artists as one of the industry's most significant trends.

Crutcher complains that there is a bias in Nashville toward using

Los Angeles directors for country's most lavishly financed videos: "It's disturbing to me that all the really big budgets are going to companies based outside of Nashville. If L.A. people did a lot better videos, that would be one thing. But I don't see that happening."

Keene Garrett, marketing rep for Scene Three, disagrees with Crutcher's appraisal, noting that her company has not suffered from such favoritism.

In addition to producing regular music videos, Crutcher's Dream Ranch is also doing home video packages. So far, it has done projects on Keith Whitley and Don Williams and is starting one for Alabama. Dream Ranch has been in operation for two years.

Here is the approximate number of videos produced last year and the first quarter of this year by the companies surveyed: Dream Ranch, 12/3; Studio Productions, 30/4; Scene Three, 30/25; Deaton Flanigen, 11/5; and ACME, 25/10.

Marc Ball owns Scene Three, and James May, Coke Sams, and Mary Matthews own Studio Productions.

Jamboree In The Hills Eyes Its New Venue

Ohio Fest Will Feature Stellar Cast At Outdoor Site

NASHVILLE—Construction is still under way at the new Jamboree In The Hills site near St. Clairsville, Ohio, but officials say the location will be completed in time for the 14th annual edition of the outdoor festival, July 20-22.

Expected to cost more than $1 million, the location is about two miles from Brush Run Park, where the Jamboree has been staged since its inception.

For the first time, there will be three days of concerts instead of the usual two. Scheduled for Friday night are Lionel Cartwright, Steve Wariner, Suzy Bogguss, the Nitty Gritty Dirt Band, and Prairie Oyster.

Saturday's lineup includes Tom T. Hall, Shenandoah, Skip Ewing, Patty Loveless, Jason D. Williams, the 11/70 Band, Canyon, Ronnie Milsap, Tanya Tucker, and the Oak Ridge Boys.

Performing Sunday will be the Forester Sisters, Billy "Crash" Craddock, Garth Brooks, Tammy Wynette, the Desert Rose Band, Ronnie McDowell, Holly Dunn, and Randy Travis.

A spokeswoman for the Jamboree says the event's sponsors will continue to let ticket-buyers bring in their own food and drinks, including beer, to the new site. There will, she adds, be more concession stands than at the old location.

GAMBLE ON MARY CHAPIN CARPENTER PAYS OFF NICELY FOR CBS/NASHVILLE

Furthering her own cause, Carpenter has unflinchingly performed all the promotional "cliques of the business," adds Wunsch, speaking of copious in-store and grand-opening appearances. She has also capitalized heavily on her top-shelf live show by touring extensively.

"I saw her the first time at the Birchmere, her home club," Wunsch says, "where she has a strong fan base. We needed to find a way to translate such a positive audience reaction to radio, and the only way to do that was to get her out before the public as fast as we could."

Meanwhile, Carpenter was also developing into an eloquent country music spokeswoman, decrying the "'F' word"—"format," or to a lesser degree, "folk"—at college radio's CMJ Convention in New York, the NACA Convention of college bookers in Chicago, and the Country Radio Seminar.

"I try to get people more interested [in country music] without hitting them over the head," says Carpenter. "So many people come up and say how they aren't country fans but they like my record. This indicates that they don't really listen to country music. They'd probably die for Foster & Lloyd or Rodney Crowell and so many others if they only knew they were there."

To increase her own visibility among noncountry listeners, Carpenter, with label encouragement, recently hired Inpress, a New York public relations firm specializing in rock acts. With VH-1 having just added her new video for "This Shirt," she last week taped a host spot for the first of the network's new flight of "This is VH-1 Country" programs.

Carpenter's next single, though, is "Something Of A Dreamer." Wunsch says that a fifth single from "State Of The Heart" is possible in late July or early August. But Carpenter has already written and begun recording her next album, again with herself and her guitarist, John Jennings, producing.

"It's hard for me to put into words why I think she's been so successful," concludes Wunsch. "I think she's speaking to women and for women better than anybody in years and in a more real way. There's real heartbreak there, and she moves me and, I know, other listeners as well."

Desert Rose Band Aims To Cultivate A Strong Group Identity

■ BY JIM BESSMAN

NASHVILLE—Desert Rose Band's "problem," says front man Chris Hillman, has been establishing a strong group identity with which the public can connect.

"Country radio's been great," Hillman says. "It's just matching the faces with the radio." Video has helped some, he notes. But to further aid the cause, the band used a cover shot for "Pages Of Life" (its third and current MCA/Curb album) that features only the three singer/songwriter front men: Hillman, John Jorgensen, and Herb Pedersen. Bassist Bill Bryson, drummer Steve Duncan, and steel player Jay Dee Maness were included on the inside group shot. Similarly, the new publicity photos show the core three.

Says Hillman, "We wanted to avoid the generic, neatly coiffed country-band look of six guys with leather jackets and bolo ties sneering at the camera—which could be Canyon, Shenandoah, Sequoia. It's become a caricature, part of a disposable, fast-food culture where there's no substance and nothing lasts."

To strengthen the new Desert Rose Band identity at retail, MCA's marketing department devised a "Mission Possible" awareness campaign. It involved sending retailers cassette copies of "Start All Over Again," the first "Pages Of Life" single. Accompanying each copy was a note that echoed the opening segment of the "Mission Impossible" TV series: "As always," read the missive, "if you or any of your employees are caught NOT listening to this cassette, we will not be responsible for any lost opportunities."

According to Hillman, who reinforced the campaign with personal letters to key retail buyers, few opportunities were lost. He says that steady movement of the new album has raised the sales level to nearly double the approximately 120,000 copies that each of the first two albums—"Desert Rose Band" and "Runnin'"—sold.

MCA Records/Nashville president Bruce Hinton says he expects the new album to go gold by the end of this year. He says the strong showing results from a lengthy "educational process" that involved presenting Desert Rose as a band, rather than spotlighting Hillman's folk/country/rock career in the Byrds and Flying Burrito Brothers. Shelton Shines In TNN/Music City News Awards

NASHVILLE—A surprised Ricky Van Shelton walked off with top honors at the TNN/Music City News Awards, held June 4 at the Grand Ole Opry House here. The two-hour Nashville Network live broadcast also saw an emotional Tennessee Ernie Ford receive the Minnie Pearl Award for his career accomplishments, while Clint Black continued his meteoric rise by winning the star-of-tomorrow and album-of-the-year ("Killin' Time") awards.

Shelton scored as top entertainer and male artist. Patty Loveless gained female-artist-of-the-year honors. Perennial winners the Statler Brothers encored with awards for top group and single of the year—"More Than A Name On The Wall."

Instrumentalist of the year was Ricky Skaggs, comedian honors went to Ray Stevens, and the Chuck Wagon Gang was named the top gospel group. Three winners failed to show up for the awards show: the Judds won the vocal duo trophy, Merle Haggard was the Living Legend recipient, and Hank Williams Jr. won for vocal collaboration and video of the year for the technical triumph of "There's A Tear In My Beer," with Hank Williams Sr. The video award is shared with Joanne Gardner, producer, and Ethan Russell, director.

The show was boosted by some strong performances, especially from the emerging new country acts, but blemished by the lack of chemistry between co-hosts Jimmy Dean, whose city-slicked country sayings are wearing a bit thin, and Barbara Mandrell, whose high point of the night was a powerful rendering of the song "You've Become The Dream."

The 1990 awards marked the first time the TNN Viewer's Choice Awards were combined with the Music City News Country Awards. Winners were determined through nominations by Music City News subscribers and a vote through a Nashville Network 900 number. GERRY WOOD penses-paid trip to the internationally known Telluride Bluegrass festival in Colorado. The Tower, WaxWorks, and Wiz retail chains are slated to participate in the display contests. There will be an independent-store competition as well that involves approximately 50 outlets.

ROUNDER PROMO PUTS FOCUS ON BLUEGRASS

Point-of-purchase material, advertising, and a CD sampler (for both in-store play and retail sales at a budget $9.98 list) will focus on six titles: "Drive," by banjoist Bela Fleck; "The Lynn Morris Band"; "At The Schoolhouse," the Johnson Mountain Boys; "The Rice Brothers"; "The Bluegrass Album Band"; and a new release, "I've Got That Old Feeling," by widely heralded fiddler/singer Alison Krause.

Giles notes that Rounder is looking to the 19-year-old Krause to be "the key artist to break out to a wider audience," and that the label anticipates broad consumer publication ink on Krause.

Print advertising will appear in Wavelength, Nashville Scene, Village Voice, Seattle Weekly, Boston Phoenix, Bay Guardian, and East

Express, as well as in a number of chain-owned publications.

In further efforts to expand awareness, Rounder is underwriting select bluegrass radio shows in conjunction with local retailers (including the "Crow's Nest" show on WDCB Chicago) and has sent letters to the 400-plus-member organizations of the International Bluegrass Music Assn., informing them about the promotion and urging them to participate in local promotions and sales and cook up their own events.

Rounder will follow this bluegrass promotion with a blues program in September, featuring releases from New Orleans-based Black Top Records, whose product Rounder manufactures and markets.

The Real (Mayor) McCall's Convoy Is 'Comin' Back For More'

■ BY EDWARD MORRIS

NASHVILLE—Straight outta Ouray, Colo., it's C.W. McCall. Again.

Rappers aren't the only artists who have talked their way onto the charts. McCall did it regularly in the mid-'70s with his droll tall tales and folksy talking blues style.

The man who wrote "Convoy" and turned it into the truckers' national anthem is back in the business with a new single and album. However, the duties of office will probably prevent McCall from taking to the road to hype his new material. Under his real name, Bill Fries, McCall recently won his second four-year term as mayor of Ouray, population 684.

"The Real McCall," on Omaha, Neb.-based American Gramophone Records, is a 16-cut CD that contains four of McCall's chart hits (including "Convoy") and the new single, "Comin' Back For More."

In 1975, at the height of the oil shortage, McCall released "Convoy," a saga about truckers using their CB radios to outwit the cops who were trying to enforce the gas-saving 55-miles-per-hour speed limit.

"Convoy" went to No. 1 on the country charts and stayed there for six weeks. The single, which was also a No. 1 pop hit, was certified gold within a month of its release.

Now 61, Fries broke into music via his job as a writer for an ad agency in Omaha. A bread commercial, for which he provided both lyrics and voice, gained such regional popularity that he turned it into a full-length single called "Old Home Filler-Up And Keep On-A-Truckin' Cafe." It went to No. 19 on the country chart in 1974. His recording career climaxed in 1977 with his No. 2 country hit, "Roses For Mama."

McCall's producer and co-writer has been Chip Davis, the creator of Mannheim Steamroller. In fact, the crew of musicians who make up Steamroller toured with McCall in the '70s as his backup band, the Fort Calhoun Nuclear Power Plant Boys.

McCall says he wanted to use his original masters for the album but that PolyGram Records, which now owns them, "wouldn't hear of it." Consequently, McCall and Davis did all new digital recordings, using the Steamroller players and several musicians from the Chicago Symphony. In addition to the humorous numbers, the album also contains serious pieces on the environment.

American Gramophone will market "The Real McCall" through a network of independent distributors and by direct mail. McCall will do a music video to accompany "Comin' Back For More," a grisly but grinning story of cannibalism in the Old West.

OSLIN, VAN SHELTON TO CO-HEADLINE 28-CITY TOUR

tion details will be handled by Production Services Group.

Additionally, the tour will be associated with a special radio promotion tie-in with the Save The American Eagle effort by the National Foundation to Protect America's Eagles. Sponsoring stations will be able to secure a block of tickets to be sold at a higher ticket price. Money raised from the promotion is expected to heighten public awareness of the plight of the American Eagle and enable the station and its listeners to adopt an American Eagle which costs $5,000.

NEW ON THE CHARTS

Country newcomer Tim Ryan, 26, got his start in an unusual one-day career typhoon. It is the story of a not-so-typical day in Nashville.

Only six weeks after his arrival in Music City, Ryan befriended Gerry Teifer of the Opryland Music Group. After giving his tape a listen and giving him some advice, Teifer connected Ryan—then unaffiliated with a performing rights society—with Pat Rolfe of ASCAP. Rolfe took one listen and, arranged a meeting between Ryan and Dan Wilson at Tree Publishing. After hearing two songs, Wilson called in Tree president Buddy Killen and played him Ryan's songs. Killen immediately signed him to a publishing deal and offered to produce him.

At that rate, a career could run its course in one week. But the promise in Ryan's talent leans toward longevity.

Montana-bred Ryan's first single, "Let's Dance In Circles," from his self-titled Epic debut, is climbing the chart. It is No. 70 with a bullet on Billboard's Hot Country Singles & Tracks chart this week.

The earlier chapters of Ryan's story are no less remarkable. He began playing the fiddle with his grandfather, Vic Cordier, when he was only 4. Cordier plays fiddle in the "Let's Dance In Circles" video.

Then, at 12, Ryan was chosen to play lead guitar for Tex Williams' local tour. Williams asked Ryan to join him for the remaining dates, but Ryan stayed behind to finish school.

After college graduation, he took the road to Nashville, where his dreams have yet to fail him.

He is managed by Bill Carter, 1114 17th Ave. So., Nashville 37203; 615-327-1270. He is booked by Buddy Lee Attractions, Suite 300, 38 Music Square E., Nashville 37203; 615-244-4336.

Stage Space Will Be SRO, As Buyers Meet Inks 23 Acts

NASHVILLE—A record 23 acts are slated to perform at SRO '90, the annual country music talent buyers convention here, Oct. 5-7. The event will be staged at the Stouffer Hotel and adjacent Nashville Convention Center.

In addition to the performances, SRO '90 will include an awards banquet, trade exhibits, seminars, and round-table discussions.

K.T. Oslin and Roger Miller will sing at the awards show, where citations will be conferred in the categories of talent buyer/promoter, touring artist, venue, club/theater, festival/special event, support services company, new touring artist, talent agent, artist manager, and road manager.

Scheduled to perform in a series of showcases are Daniele Alexander, Susi Beatty, Matraca Berg, Jann Browne, Carlene Carter, Mark Collie, Exile, James House, McBride & the Ride, Delbert McClintock, Tim Mensy, Lee Roy Parnell, Pirates Of The Mississippi, Prairie Oyster, Doug Stone, Les Taylor, Marsha Thornton, Travis Tritt, Kevin Welch, Wild Rose, and Michelle Wright.

Companies affiliated with selling, buying, staging, or otherwise supporting live talent can buy 10-by-10-foot booth space at the Convention Center for $400. That fee includes the cost of registration and as many as 10 exhibitor passes. Reservations are being handled by Dave DeBolt at 615-329-4487.

The registration fee for Country Music Assn. members is $150. Nonmembers, who are eligible for CMA membership, can enroll for $200. Prices go up after Sept. 10.

Information on registration is available from the CMA's special projects department at 615-244-2840.

SRO '90 is sponsored by the CMA and Amusement Business magazine.

WestFest Lineup Set

NASHVILLE—Michael Martin Murphey's WestFest has been scheduled for Sept. 1-3 in Copper Mountain, Colo. The event spotlights artists, dancers, poets, and musicians—all with a Western, Native American, and Mountain Man theme. Among the acts booked are Asleep At The Wheel, Desert Rose Band, and the Colorado Springs Symphony Orchestra. Contact: 800-458-8386.

The WestFest set for Sept. 15-16 at Nashville's Starwood Amphitheatre has been canceled.

Canadian radio license goes to country station ... see page 77

ARTS & CHARTS

COLLECTION

Arts & Charts

The complete Country Music Charts exactly as they appeared in Billboard magazine from 1944 to the present, in high resolution, taken from the celebrated magazine's pages.

From the owner of COUNTRY MUSIC DATABASE® who has one of the largest collections in the world (with records, videos, magazines, books and comics) comes his latest epic project!

More than 70 years of Country Music Charts from the beginning. The volumes are published in random order (like Marvel's beautiful series "The Epic Collection").
